

Deutsches Rotes Kreuz Generalsekretariat

EU Aid Volunteer (m/f/d), Lima/Peru

The German Red Cross (GRC) is part of a worldwide community assisting victims of conflicts and disasters and people affected by social or health related crises. The Red Cross / Red Crescent Movement provides vulnerable people with assistance without discrimination as to nationality, race, religious beliefs, class or political opinions and adheres to the seven Fundamental Principles of the Movement: Humanity, Impartiality, Neutrality, Independence, Voluntary Service, Unity and Universality. The German Red Cross assists in disaster response, rehabilitation and capacity building projects on appeals of their sister organisations within the Movement.

GRC is currently seeking a Position in IT/ Software Development for its Forecast-based Financing (FbF) project in Peru.

German Red Cross is implementing a Forecast based financing (Fbf) project in Peru which includes on the one hand the programming of a district wide telephone/email alert system in case of upcoming extreme weather events and on the other hand the analysis of existing meteorological- and risk maps. A program needs to be developed which combines those two maps and gives an analysis in which district the risk of extreme weather events is highest in the upcoming season. This will support the accuracy of the GRC interventions in Peru.

Furthermore Project Monitoring, Evaluation and Reporting (PMER) activities of the FbF project need to be supported.

The applicant must be an EU citizen or long-term resident in an EU member State.

Duration 12 months (15 August, 2019 - 15 August, 2020) [Starting date/ Ending date are flexible]

Location: Lima/Peru

Responsibilities and Tasks:

- Programming of a district wide telephone/email alert system in close coordination with the Peruvian Red Cross (PRC)
